Beginning April 1, 2020, the United States Census will be conducted primarily online for the first time. Libraries offer public computers and free internet access to help make sure you’re counted. The Census data informs the distribution of more than $675 billion in federal funding each year. The data is also used to apportion seats in the House of Representatives, community initiatives and more. Make sure you count everyone living in your home, including newborn babies and young children on the 2020 Census. Your responses are confidential and important. Info at: www.2020census.gov
